

Background and Mission

The Jockey Club Scholars Alumni Association ("JCSAA") was registered as a non-profit organisation in November 2004, with a mission to build a strong network of Jockey Club Scholars to serve the society, leveraging on their diverse background and expertise.

Members

Recipients of The Hong Kong Jockey Club Scholarship automatically become members of JCSAA. They come from nine tertiary institutions in Hong Kong. To date, JCSAA has 291 members, including 198 local scholars and 93 Mainland scholars. Among them, 136 local scholars and 61 Mainland scholars have already graduated.

Organisation Structure

The Board of Directors, elected by members at the Annual General Meetings, is the highest executive body of JCSAA, responsible for final decision-making and setting directions for JCSAA's development. The Board appoints the Executive Committee to carry out daily operations and organise activities for members. Besides, the Core Project Committee plans and implement JCSAA's core project, while the Strategic Committee provides and gathers views on the future development of JCSAA. Both of them report directly to the Board. The Hong Kong Jockey Club Charities Trust as well as former Board and Executive Committee members are also advisors to JCSAA.

Community Services

JCSAA has a signature community service project, Schoolala. The project aims at inspiring youths to identify their goals and pursue their dreams through sharing the expertise and experience of scholars. (See a separate sheet for details)

Before this project, JCSAA had organised many different community services. They included an art and performing project for children with special needs, a series of English classes and outdoor activities for new arrival students, a project to make and fly an unbelievable 100-metre-long kite with a group of at risk youths, etc.

Members activities

Scholars have nurtured a strong bonding through various camps, workshops and gatherings organized by JCSAA that also allow them to learn from each other. JCSAA also makes use of online platforms, eg website, blog and facebook, to keep scholars around the world updated on its news and development.
