Overseas Expert Column by Brett Davis

POST IMPRESSIONIST was sent out the race favourite for his Australian debut and the 5YO son of TEOFILO didn't let his followers down. He won the G3 N E Manion Cup over 2,400m comfortably at Rosehill with an explosive turn of speed down the final straight. Trainer William Haggas is building a strong reputation in Australia for bringing the right type of horse and it appears as though he's on the money again. With only 14 starts to his name it seems inevitable that better wins at a higher level are still to come.

ASHRUN was a gallant second in the G3 Geelong Cup last year over 2,400m before running a bold race to finish fourth in the 2023 G1 Melbourne Cup. He returned to racing this campaign with an encouraging fourth at Caulfield over an insufficient distance (2,000m) before being well tried to win the Listed Pakenham Cup over 2,500m. He, along with many others in this coveted G1 contest are preparing for the G1 Sydney Cup in two weeks' time, but his form and sectional data from his most recent win suggests he's going terrific.

BUCKAROO finished seventh in the 2023 G1 King Charles III Stakes at his Australian debut but certainly wasn't disgraced by the performance. The former Joseph O'Brien trainer runner is now under the care of Chris Waller and his form is definitely on an upward spiral. His most recent third in the 2,000m G1 Ranvet Stakes was the perfect encounter for a race of this caliber, but he must now prove himself over 2,400m.

MORE FELONS is another former European galloper who now resides in Australia and he's just starting to find his feet after acclimatisation took a toll. His recent first up win in the Listed Parramatta Cup was both exciting and classy as he blasted home powerfully from near the rear. The rise into G1 company shall certainly be a challenge but he's proven in the past, when he's feeling well he can perform over longer distances and at a high level.

TOM KITTEN is already a G1 winner and the most difficult runner to assess. He's a 3YO suited by the weight for age scale but questions are being asked of his commitment to finding the line. His form last campaign was outstanding and he hasn't been faraway recently in some incredibly deep events. He rises to the 2,400m for the first time and it's expected he'll ease back for a quiet comfortable trail. It's a flip of the coin scenario but you'd be extremely brave leaving him out.

Overseas Expert Column by Brett Davis

ANOTHER WIL shall start a short price favourite for his Sydney debut and it's easy to understand why. The 4YO son of STREET BOSS has developed quickly into a serious running machine and it's courtesy of his incredible natural talent and the firmer tracks. Jamie Kah flew up to Sydney on 18th March and together they trialled superbly on the Rosehill surface in preparation for today. With a nice low draw assisting his first attempt at G3 level, he should stalk the speed quietly before putting the race to bed down the lane.

VON HAUKE also heads to Sydney from Melbourne for his Rosehill debut and arrives as the G3 winner of the Shaftesbury Avenue Handicap. His form last campaign was solid, without being dynamic, but he's gone to a new level based on his current data. He cut down a very smart conveyance in AMENABLE when winning, who himself enjoyed a very cushy run on speed, and he did it with a crunching turn of power, acceleration and class.

AMOR VICTORIOUS had excuses recently in the G2 Ajax Stakes after over racing profusely when bustling for the lead. His level of form prior was excellent, along with progressive, so he's definitely a dangerous runner to overlook. Under the handicap conditions of this event he's one of many up and coming youngsters well placed at the weights. A final spot in the G1 Doncaster Mile is on the cards, should he be in the finish, so expect him to perform well.

COIN TOSS was given a four-month spell over the Australian summer before returning with an all the way win in the Listed National Sprint in Canberra. The former Singapore galloper won the Singapore Three-Year-Old Classic and the Singapore Guineas at Kranji before relocating to Australia and is yet to be fully exposed. He's tactically versatile, however most wins have come when ridden patiently, so a low draw is seen as positive.

RUSTIC STEEL is the highest rated runner competing following an exhibition style gallop and win in the G3 Newcastle Stakes first up. He's also proven in the past he can carry big weights whilst being competitive in all different types of quality events. With a couple of exceptionally talented younger horses better off at the weights he's likely to become vulnerable, but his determination can push him along way.

Track Analysis by Brett Davis

Rosehill Racecourse

Rosehill Racecourse is one of Sydney's premier racecourses and is in the western part of the city. Rosehill hosts major events like the Golden Slipper in the autumn, the world's richest 2YO race, and the Golden Eagle in the spring, a lucrative race for the 4YOs. It's also one of the main training centres in Sydney and is where Australia's leading trainer Chris Waller has his primary base. Like Sha Tin and Happy Valley, Rosehill is a right-handed track with a circumference of 2048m and a home straight that is 408m in length.

This year, two turf races from the Tancred Stakes Day will be simulcast to Hong Kong.

Featured race, the G1 Tancred Stakes is Australia's best 2400m contest held under weight for age conditions and has been won in the past by outstanding horses like BONECRUSHER, OCTAGONAL, MIGHT AND POWER and MAKYBE DIVA.

The race starts from the top of the Rosehill straight where the field has a run of approximately 400m before they turn out of the straight. From there, they'll race for close to 500m before entering the long back section of the course. They'll run along the back for 600m which will then take them to the sweeping bend along the side at the 800m mark, where the race will begin to hot up before they turn for home and enter the 400m home straight.

Last year's Tancred Stakes was won by the ARAPAHO. With a stone-cold Rachel King in the irons, the pair sat slightly better than midfield through the early stages, then unleashed a well-timed drive to prevail. Runner up MONTEFILIA tracked a strong second, while KING FRANKEL simply couldn't sustain as strong a stretch run, and could only settle for third.

Only two winners of the race this century have come from horses drawn double figure barriers, therefore, horses that have drawn inside to middle gates, that don't have to work too hard to find a position in running, are at an advantage.

Rosehill's sprint races begin from a chute, where inside and middle-drawn runners certainly get the first jump, thanks to the short run towards the first turn that funnels them onto the course proper.

The other simulcast race on the card is 1500m G3 Doncaster Prelude, start from a chute at the top left corner of Rosehill. It gives all horses a relatively fair chance to position well, given a full 600m run before reaching the first turn.

The Tancred Stakes Day is the third consecutive Saturday meeting held at Rosehill, so there's a strong chance that the track will be affected by wear and tear. Meanwhile, warm and dry conditions are expected, so it's likely that the meeting will be run on a good track.

Buckaroo on trend to provide Chris Waller with third Tancred Stakes win

Thursday, 28/3/2024

Imported galloper Buckaroo looms as one of the key contenders for Saturday's (30 March) G1 Tancred Stakes (2400m) at Rosehill Gardens in Sydney, as part of a spectacular day of simulcast racing in Hong Kong.

The five-year-old Fastnet Rock stallion, formerly trained by Joseph O'Brien, will be having his third run for Australia's premier trainer Chris Waller, who has won the Tancred Stakes with Verry Elleegant (2020) and Preferment (2016).

Buckaroo ran well, with the day's pattern of racing against him, when beaten just over a length into third place behind another highly regarded import Via Sistina - a Group 1 winner in Ireland and now also prepared by Waller - in last Saturday's (23 March) G1 Ranvet Stakes (2000m).

Four of the past ten Tancred Stakes winners have backed up from a top-four finish in the Ranvet Stakes and, significantly, each of the past ten winners has graduated from a top-four finish in races at 2000 metres.

Buckaroo is untried at Saturday's distance of 2400m but he shapes like he will cope with the trip. His dam Roheryn, by Galileo, was a winner at 2400m and has produced three winners at 2400m and beyond.

"This horse (Buckaroo) has just continued to improve week by week since he joined the stable," said Waller, who will also be represented by Listed Parramatta Cup (1900m) winner More Felons.

James McDonald, chasing a fourth win in the race, will ride More Felons while Tommy Berry reclaims the mount on Buckaroo in the absence of Ryan Moore who was aboard last week.

Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott-trained Military Mission is the one other Tancred Stakes runner progressing from the Ranvet Stakes and while he was somewhat one-paced last week, he will find the rise in distance a plus with his past four wins having come at 2300m and 2400m.

Britain's Post Impressionist, who won the G3 N E Manion Cup (2400m) on his Australian debut last Saturday, will be strongly fancied after connections opted to accept for Saturday's Group 1 event.

Trainer William Haggas said: "We looked at it closely. His blood picture was good Tuesday morning and the horse seems to have come through last week's run very well."

Haggas has been the trailblazing and most successful international trainer in Sydney having previously enjoyed success there with Dubai Honour, Protagonist, Addeybb, Favorite Moon and Young Rascal.

Godolphin's Tom Kitten is the lone three-year-old in the race, bidding to become the first of that age to win since Fiveandahalfstar in 2013.
